

Joining the Regional Ecosystem for Circular Building

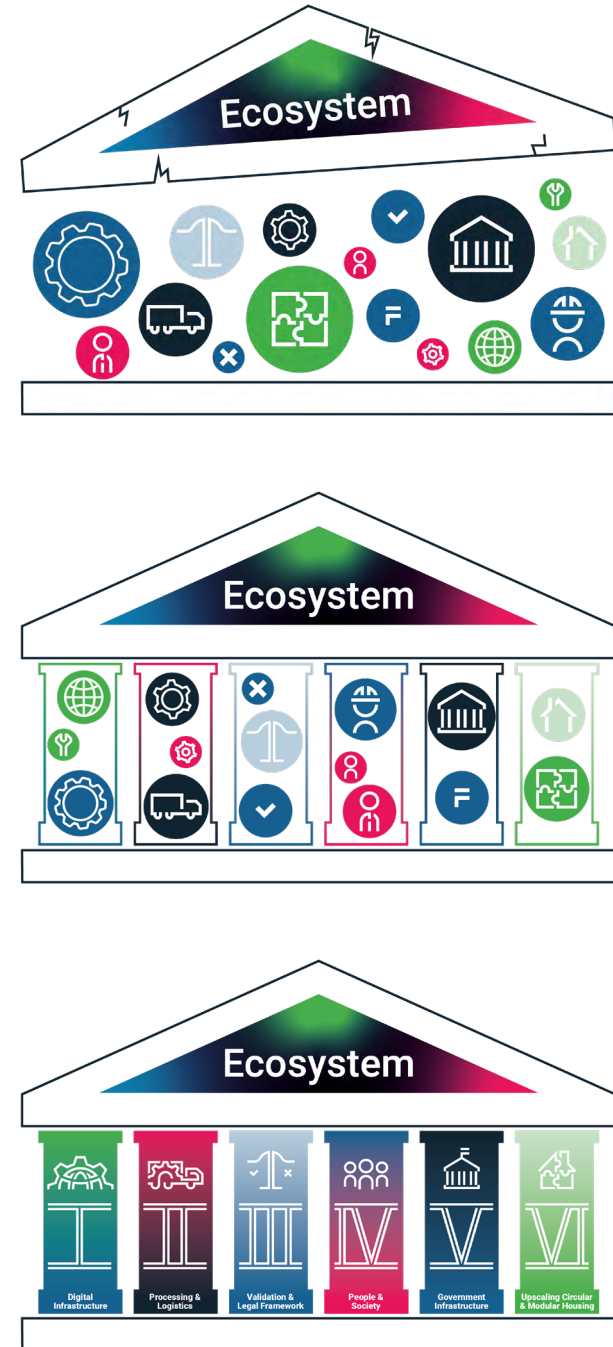

The European Center for Circular Building and Transformation connects organisations working towards a circular built environment across the Meuse Rhine region.

Why is an ecosystem needed?

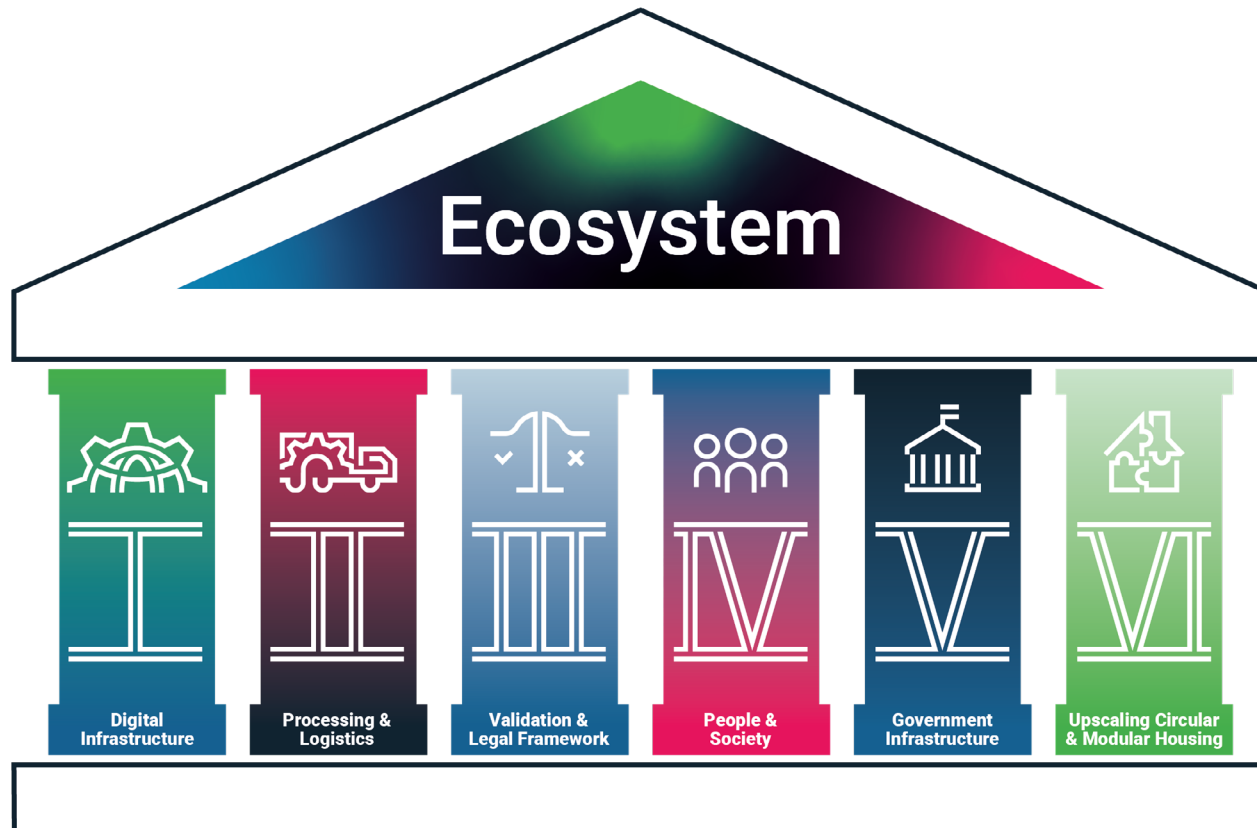

The circular economy cannot be built through scattered pilot projects and short-term funding alone. Repeating small experiments wastes effort and slows progress. What's needed is a strong, shared ecosystem that connects initiatives, builds on what already works, and makes lasting change possible.

How our ecosystem works

ECCBT creates an environment in which partners collaborate, initiate and execute. We support your own initiatives with structure, matchmaking and shared knowledge.

The Six Pillars of ECCBT

I. Digital Infrastructure
Digital tools, data structures and building passports.

II. Processing and Logistics
Material identification, dismantling and logistics for reuse.

III. Validation and Law
Standards and certification. Invitation based.

IV. People and Society
Skills, training and community involvement.

V. Government Infrastructure
Policy, procurement and permitting alignment.

VI. Industrial and Modular Housing
Scalable circular and modular building concepts.

*partners can join all pillars except Pillar III. This will only be on invitation.

What our ecosystem offers

Our structured ecosystem gives organisations accelerated collaboration and supports circular innovation.

Access to the ECCBT cross border network

Early insight into regional developments

Tools and workflows that reduce development time

Support in finding partners and aligning collaboration

Visibility in events and working groups

Participation in pillar sessions

Access to community platform

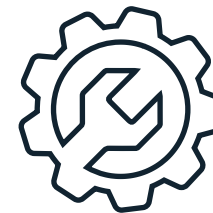

Our ecosystem is a shared commitment, not a service package.

We connect our network

We share our knowledge

We support with our tools

What ECCBT expects from partners

ECCBT strengthens collaboration. partners remain responsible for their own initiatives and business opportunities.

Participation in pillars

Sharing knowledge

Constructive collaboration

Cross border engagement

Organizing own initiatives

Providing tools and standards

Role of the coordinators

Coordinators help partners align, find each other and explore opportunities.

Fee and Conditions of our ecosystem

Fee

€ 3.000 per year.

Membership runs per calendar year.

Why this works

Diversity strengthens collaboration. The ecosystem grows when organisations of all sizes contribute.

Included:

Ecosystem access

Events and knowledge sessions

Participation in all pillars

Community platform

Tools and shared knowledge

Support from ECCBT coordinators

Small companies in our ecosystem

Small organisations bring innovation and flexibility. They are essential to the ecosystem and receive equal access to tools, knowledge and collaboration.

Quarterly payment option

Equal voting rights

Full access to all tools and sessions

Opportunity for a voucher application

ECCBT

European Center
for Circular Building and Transformation

Together we build the circular future of the Meuse-Rhine region.

Want to learn more?

Send us a email:

info@eccbt.nl

or visit our website:

www.eccbt.com